Understanding the PMP Exam Structure

The PMP certification exam is designed to assess a candidate's knowledge and skills in project management according to the standards set by the Project Management Institute (PMI). It consists of 180 multiple-choice questions that must be completed within a 230-minute time frame. The exam covers three primary domains: People, Process, and Business Environment, reflecting the current PMP Exam Content Outline. Understanding the structure and content areas is crucial for focusing study efforts on relevant topics and practicing with appropriately categorized free PMP exam questions.

Exam Domains and Content Distribution

The PMP exam domains are divided as follows: 42% People, 50% Process, and 8% Business Environment. These percentages indicate the weight of questions from each domain.
